BLUE DAY ACTIVITY

Blue is a cool and calming colour that shows creativity and intelligence. We celebrated Blue Day on 30TH, September 2024, at Balamandir. The students as well as teachers came dressed in different shades of blue. Children carried their favourite blue colour objects.

Balamandir was decorated with different blue colour objects. Different types of blue theme picture drawings were conducted. Children have a clear sense of colour and its importance. It was indeed a visual treat to see the good effects of blue colour on our little ones. Early identification of colours helps to create the cognitive link between the visual clues and words, which is an important part of a child's development.

Blue Day was an amazing learning experience for children.

TEACHER 'S TALK

Amplify Goodness; Forsake Badness

The Berlin Wall separating East and West Germany was built on 13 August, 1961.

It was historically dismantled on November 9, 1989

Back in the days when Germany was divided, this huge wall separated East and West Berlin. People on both sides faced not only physical barriers, but also hatred and revenge. One day, in a provocative act, some East Berliners took a truck load of garbage, and dumped it on the West Berlin side of the wall.

Yet, rather than retaliating in a similar way, the West Berliners responded with an astounding display of humanitarian consideration. They took truckloads of canned food, bread, milk, and other provisions, and neatly stacked these on the East Berlin side. Atop the stacks, a simple but deep-impacting message was written "Each gives what he has"

The above story reminds us that hate and revenge have never been able to solve anything. Instead, they spiral down into an everlasting abyss of despair and anger. It is said that we can only give what we have. Just as an apple tree gives apples, and a berry tree yields berries, our actions and reactions stem from our essence. The apples and berries come from the essence of their trees. And the essence of each tree is different.

Life is full of good and bad things. In times of crisis, put in your best efforts, and react with intelligence, prudence and composure.

Furthermore, amidst the trials in life always try to amplify the goodness within you.
